A great find

Jeff Martin

Born and raised in Griffith, New South Wales, their backyard was a 15,000 acre wetland and Jeff and his siblings grew up with an awful lot of freedom, “the good old days“ but they were neither good or old. Jeff and his brothers limited their hunting and trapping to anything that could run, swim or fly in their childhood years and assumed this was the way of life everyone enjoyed.

The Martin family always enjoyed the outdoors. It was nothing to go camping on some of the inland rivers for a week at a time to swim, fish, and hunt. The principle was ingrained into them “take nothing but memories and leave nothing but footprints” long before they could ever read the statement and never ever take more than you needed or could use.

As a farm kid they raised sheep, cattle, and pigs along with a menagerie of pets. It wasn't the Noah's Ark but with 5 kids it wasn't too far removed either. They trained everything from racing pigeons, to stock dogs, horses, and milking cows. A peregrine falcon for good measure and even ferrets for rabbit hunting were in the mix. In these endeavors it became obvious very quickly that rubbish cost just as much or more to raise than quality stock, so start with the absolute best breeding stock possible as the end result and returns were far, far better.

“Their” swamp was regarded by wildlife researchers as one of two key wetlands for waterfowl in SE Australia and because of this Jeff got to see a lot of hunting dogs accompanying duck hunters that knew his father.

The GSP breed was first imported in 1963 from the UK by well-known sportsman Jack Thomson. With our quarantine rules it was an onerous task but Jack was a helluva promoter billing them as the “wonder dog that could do it all, that only the German's could have bred”. Jeff got to talk to him and see his dogs many times over the years on his hunting trips to Griffiths, NSW area.

This jack-of-all trade's dog seemed exactly suited to the varied hunting needs at the time. Availability was scarce, but Jeff arranged to see a litter and his parents bought the pup as his birthday present in 1969. She proved to be a great hunting dog and had quite the reputation in local circles embellished by anyone that got to see her working.

It wasn't until later years when Jeff had finished university, had married and built a house and felt he had the time to devote to another dog. Jeff contacted Jack with the mindset to purchase the best bloodline that money could buy. She was a beautiful dark liver bitch with eyes that could melt your soul or tell you exactly what she thought of your missed shot in the duck blind.

Jeff attended his first field trial when he thought she was ready and went out on his backside in short order!! That bloodied nose, meant that over the next 6 years Jeff was on a steep learning curve eventually competing successfully in Utility Field trials, Retrieving trials, and shows at the highest level. This bitch was Dual Champ Dunfrui Suzette who became both a FT & show champion whose winning record was only surpassed by her daughter, homebred Riverfield Aspen who became the first FT & RT female in breed history.

Trialing versatile dogs proved to be a door that Jeff couldn't close and he regularly competed or judged both field and retrieving trials before moving to Canada in 1994. It was here that Jeff was able to test firsthand in the DKV system which he considered to be a breath of fresh air.

Jeff has been a regular visitor to Germany since 1983 becoming both a VR field judge as well as a SZR conformation judge whereby being able to give something back to the breed and testing system.

In 2022 Jeff was awarded the Golden Pin Honor award from the Deutsch-Kuzhaar -Verband.

To this day, Jeff has a continued love affair with the breed.

A great find

Meet Hunter.

PART OF OUR FAMILY.

Hotondo Homes adopted 'Hunter' our German Shorthaired Pointer back in 2010 alongside the launch of its 'A Great Find' campaign. The idea of the hunting dog in the campaign was intended to creatively symbolise the campaign tagline 'A Great Find.' He was aptly named Hunter as it suits the breed, plus it's a great name!

Originally Hunter was going to be partnered with our brand during the 2010 campaigns, but he soon became part of our family. When builders say they are a Hotondo Homes builder, a common reply is "you're the one with the dog."

Using Hunter alongside the Hotondo Homes branding and marketing also complements and showcases our enduring respect for the use of family values in business.

Hunter has become such a beloved member of the Hotondo Homes family and can now be found at many of our events. Our builders and clients alike have fallen in love with him and some have had to get their very own 'Hunter'; they're the perfect mate to have around.

We have display homes and sales centres all around Australia.
